Annual Joint Luncheon

with Port of Anchorage Deputy Director SHAREN WALSH, PE

Sharen Walsh is the Deputy Director for the Port of Anchorage. She oversees the operations, maintenance, security and safety functions of the Port's day-to-day activities and also manages the as-needed engineering and construction contracts associated with the repair and upkeep of the Port's existing infrastructure.

Sharen is a lifelong Alaskan. She has a bachelor's degree in civil engineering from the University of Notre Dame and is a registered civil engineer. She has 37 years of experience in design engineering, construction management, and construction contracting in both the public and private sectors. Her project experience includes: housing, water, and sewer work in rural Alaska; defense contracting projects on Joint Base Elmendorf Richardson and on the Aleutian Islands of Adak and Shemya; and roads and drainage projects in the Municipality of Anchorage.

From 2010 to 2014 she served concurrently as Anchorage's Building Official and as Deputy Director of the Development Services Division for the Community Development Department. She has served on the municipal Platting Board and on the local boards of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Alaska Association of General Contractors, and the Imaginarium Science Learning Center. She currently serves on the board of the Southcentral Alaska chapter of the International Code Council and on the Anchorage School District Capital Improvement Advisory Committee.
