Topic:

Glenn Highway & Muldoon Road Interchange Improvements

Presenter:

Ronald Searcy, PE, Construction Project Manager, DOT&PF-Central Region

The Muldoon Road/Glenn Highway interchange is the gateway to Anchorage. It is the northernmost junction between the Glenn Highway and Anchorage's arterial street network and it is the primary access to the Tudor/Muldoon road corridor. Constructed in the mid-1970s, the interchange is a rural, partial cloverleaf design.

Overall, land development in the north Muldoon area has caused significant traffic volume increases. Sidewalks and non-motorized trails are limited to the east side of the interchange and they often force pedestrians and bikers to travel out-of-direction to get across the interchange. As a result, some pedestrians cross at non designated locations creating unsafe conditions. Additionally, bridge clearance for trucks and large vehicles is below current minimum height standards.

The DOT&PF is working with Neeser Construction to improve the interchange over the course of three construction seasons (2016-2018). Upon completion, this location will have a new diverging diamond interchange with a much higher capacity for vehicles, reduce travel delays, and provide safer, more efficient pedestrian access across the highway. Scheduled completion date - November 2018.

Special Notes: Meet at the Project Office, located at 7985 East 16th Avenue (a three story building east of the Muldoon and East 16th/Creekside Center Drive intersection). The office is on the ground level on the far end of the building. Parking is limited. Please park at the American Legion Post 29 parking lot (Muldoon and 16th Avenue) up against the earthen bank and then walk a half block up the hill to the Project Office. Attendees will be taken by van to tour the project. The luncheon is limited to the first 24 people who sign up, so don't delay your RSVP. Bring a hard hat and safety vest if you have one. All APWA meetings are open to the interested public.
