11:30-1:00 PM

Embassy Suites, 600 E Benson Blvd.

QUINTILLION SUBSEA CABLE SYSTEM

Kristina Woolston
Vice Presenting External
Relations, Quintillion

Krista Woolston dedicates her time and attention to government affairs, community outreach and engagement for the Quintillion project and media and public relations. Headquartered in Anchorage, Alaska, Quintillion is the owner-operator of the historic, first North American Arctic fiber optic network, the Quintillion Subsea Cable System. Kristina manages permitting and regulatory activities, community, government and stakeholder outreach, media and public relations, and myriad other requirements involved in a world-class, “first of its kind”, construction project in the waters of the Arctic.

Kristina was raised in Naknek, Alaska and grew up commercial fishing in Bristol Bay. Kristina earned a bachelor’s degree in Government from Dartmouth College. Kristina and her husband, Tim, have four children and are owners of Fat Ptarmigan Restaurant, SMW Coffee Co, and have helped their youngest daughter start her own all-natural dog treat business, Charlotte’s Canine Creations.

OUR ORGANIZATIONS

Women in Transportation Seminar (WTS) was founded in 1977. It is an international organization dedicated to building the future of transportation through the global advancement of women. Boasting more than 5,000 members--both women and men--WTS is helping women find opportunity and recognition in the transportation industry. Through its professional activities, networking opportunities, and unparalleled access to industry and government leaders, WTS is turning the glass ceiling into a career portal. WTS fulfills its mission of advancing both the transportation industry and the professional women who are a growing part of it by giving its members all of the necessary tools: Access, Programs, Networking, WTS Knowledge Lab, Mentoring, Career Center, Professional Development, Leadership Training Program, Eno Foundation Fellowship & Scholarships. www.wtsinternational.org/alaska/

The Institute of Transportation Engineers (ITE) is an international educational and scientific association of transportation professionals who are responsible for meeting mobility and safety needs. ITE facilitates the application of technology and scientific principles to research, planning, functional design, implementation, operation, policy development and management for any mode of transportation. Through its products and services, ITE promotes professional development of its members, supports and encourages education, stimulates research, develops public awareness programs and serves as a conduit for the exchange of professional information. Founded in 1930, ITE serves as a gateway to knowledge and advancement through meetings, seminars, and publications, and through our network of nearly 15,000 members working in more than 90 countries. <http://www.westernite.org>

The American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE), a professional organization representing more than 146,000 civil engineers since 1852. ASCE is a worldwide leader for excellence in civil engineering. With a mission to advance professional knowledge and improve the practice of civil engineering, ASCE is a focal point for the development and transfer of research results, and technical policy and managerial information. Through strategic emphasis in key areas, including infrastructure renewal and development, policy leadership and professional development, ASCE delivers the highest quality publications, programs and services to its worldwide membership, demonstrating a daily commitment to sustaining the profession. www.wtsinternational.org/alaska/

The American Public Works Association (APWA) is an international educational and professional association of public agencies, private sector companies, and individuals dedicated to providing high quality public works goods and services. Originally chartered in 1937, APWA is the largest and oldest organization of its kind in the world, with headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri, an office in Washington, D.C., and 67 chapters throughout North America. APWA provides a forum in which public works professionals can exchange ideas, improve professional competency, increase the performance of their agencies and companies, and bring important public works related topics to public attention in local, state, and federal arenas. Governed by a 17-member board of directors, elected at both the regional and national levels, APWA is an open, flexible association with a diversified membership of over 29,000 and a reputation for quality services and products. <http://alaska.apwa.net/>
